Where to begin..

- ❑ Tuesday Newsletter
- ❑ The Lantern
- ❑ And Moodle!

It may be difficult to synthesize all of this information, but we are here to help!

There are many helpful tools at your disposal throughout this summer to help your transition into being a student at Bryn Mawr.

The Lantern!

Go to guide for important dates, academic requirements and more!

Use the Lantern as a tool to have all the fundamental information in one place.

Academic Planning: First Steps

We want you to spend a little time early this summer learning about Bryn Mawr's curriculum.

- Read The Lantern. A hard copy was mailed to you on June 4, but in the meantime, we've also posted it below!
- Make a note of Webinar Week (June 14-18) in your calendar. We will be posting the schedules and sign-ups the week of June 7.
- If you believe you will need academic accommodations for a physical, psychological or learning disability, contact Access Services.

The Lantern Issue I

Scrolling down on the moodle page, this is the next section you will see!

This has the PDF version of the lantern and some important dates!

Academic Planning: Next Steps

Once you've read The Lantern Issue 1 and either attended webinars during Webinar Week or watched recordings, you'll be ready for the next stage of Academic Planning. During this time, you'll be doing the following:

- Begin to explore departments and course offerings.
- Learn about Emily Balch Seminar (Esem) and register your 3 top choices.
- Learn more about the Quantitative Readiness requirement and if applicable plan to take the Qtest.
- For students for whom English is not their first language, learn about Writing 120 and take Writing Diagnostic.
- Learn about placement exams, enroll as appropriate, and submit. Deadline: July 12 for most, July 26 for math.
- Learn some basic BiONiC navigation.
- Sign up for an Advising Appointment with your dean.
